The U. S. Department of Education has a definition of independent status that is different from, and should not be confused with, the IRS definition of independence. The Office of Student Financial Services must use the Department of Education's definition for a student's dependency status. An institution may use professional judgment to override this status but justification and adequate documentation is required.

You are considered an independent student for financial aid purposes if you meet one of the following conditions for the 2020-2021 academic year:

- You will be 24 years old by December 31, 2019 (born before January 1, 1997).
- You are currently active duty military or are a veteran of the U. S. Armed Forces.
- You are a graduate student enrolled in a master's or doctorate program.
- You are married.
- You have children, or other legal dependents (other than a spouse), who receive more than half of their support from you.
- You are a ward of the court or both of your parents are deceased.
- You are (1) an emancipated minor, (2) have a legal guardian determined by the court, or (3) are an unaccompanied youth who is/was homeless. (All documentation must be on file within the Office of Student Financial Services.)

Note: If you meet one of the above conditions you do not need to complete this form.

REASONS FOR REQUEST

If you would like the Office of Student Financial Services to consider a dependency override, which eliminates the requirement for parental information on the FAFSA, you must be able to explain and document the circumstance(s). Many students feel that they are independent because they currently live on their own or because their parents no longer claim them on their income tax return. Others feel they should be considered independent because their parents refuse to provide information on the FAFSA or because their parents cannot afford to help with college expenses. However, these reasons are not sufficient for an appeal, and a student will not be made independent solely because he/she is self-supporting; is unwilling to accept parental assistance; or because a parent is unwilling to provide the financial data or support; nor will Lawson State Community College make a student independent based on the student being declared independent by another college or university.

The Office of Student Financial Services is required to consider parent information and expects a parental contribution for students who are not independent according to the FAFSA definition unless exceptions are made. Exceptions are made only when adequate documentation of extenuating circumstances exist. Extenuating circumstances are generally defined by a student's inability to have contact with his/her parents. Review the reasons for appeal below and check the one that describes your circumstance.

If none of these circumstances apply to your situation, do not complete this form.

___ Circumstances within your family prevent you from obtaining parents' financial information;

___ An abusive home situation (physical, psychological, sexual) which is detrimental to your physical or mental well-being;

___ Abandonment by both parents;

___ History of parental alcohol or drug abuse;

___ Incarceration of the custodial parent;

___ Death of a parent after filing the FAFSA, and the surviving parent meets one of the conditions listed above.

DOCUMENTATION

Attach a personal statement of circumstance which completely and explicitly explains the basis of your request. Please note that your statement will be used only to determine if a dependency override should be granted; the information will remain confidential. Additional documentation is required and must verify the family circumstances described in your personal statement. Acceptable sources are: school guidance counselor, medical doctor, mental health professional, teacher or professor, attorney, law enforcement officer, social worker, officer of the court, clergy.

Signed statements from family and/or friends may be submitted as supporting documentation. If the dependency override is being requested due to the death of a parent, a copy of the death certificate and/or newspaper obituary is required. If your last name is different from your parent's, please provide legal documentation of birth, adoption, marriage, divorce, or other circumstance which proves your relationship.
